Dear Sir

Our client: Keystone Construction UK Limited

Further to earlier correspondence culminating in our letter to you dated 20th December 2007, our client has now received a letter from the NICEIC Group dated the 9th January 2008 dealing with a complaint you have apparently made under cover of your letter dated 10th December 2007.

For your information, we enclose a copy of our immediate reply to NICEIC Group, which is self explanatory.

The use of a falsehood to try and gain an advantage is yet another example of your attempt to damage our client's business. We are now considering with our client the issue of proceedings for an Injunction and damages plus costs to restrain you from further activities such as this.

We suggest you seek independent legal advice immediately on your position.

Yours faithfully
